UM JAZZ WORKSHOP'S ANNUAL SPRING CONCERT
IS SUNDAY NIGHT AT UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA

MISSOULA---

Two University of Montana students from Missoula and another from St. Ignatius will be featured on various instruments Sunday (May 12) during the UM Jazz Workshop's annual spring concert.

Sunday's program, which is open to the public without charge under the sponsorship of the UM School of Fine Arts and Department of Music, will be at 8 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom. UM Music Instructor Lance Boyd, who also is associate director of bands at UM, is director of the Jazz Workshop.

UM students from Missoula to be featured during various works include Keneth W. Kirkpatrick, tenor saxophone, "Three Movements for Tenor Sax and Jazz Band," and John F. Barker, trombone, who will play during the band's presentation of "Desiderata."

The 90-minute concert also will feature Cindy Lou Gould of St. Ignatius on trumpet during the band's rendition of "Fading Flowers."

Other works among about a dozen to be presented by the group include "You Are the Sunshine of My Life" and "Groovin' Hard."
